NUMB. 400.

THE South-Carolina Gazette.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From SATURDAY October 17, to SATURDAY October 24, 1741.

LONDON, July 23.

WE hear that 6000 Men will ſhortly be ſent to the Weſt-Indies, of old Regiments; and new Regiments will be raiſed to ſupply their Places.

'Tis ſaid Sir John Norris's Orders were given him by the Lords Juſtices, and kept ſo ſecret as not to be communicated to the Lords of the Admiralty.

By private Letters from Dunkirk we are inform'd, that Lodgings have been taken up in that Town for 150 Officers of the French Army.

Letters from Cadiz bring Advice that Admiral Haddock has retired from before that Bay.

July 28. It is confidently aſſured that the Troops ſaid to be deſtin'd for Germany will not go this Year, the Seaſon being too far advanced for a Campaign of Action.

We hear that the Yatchts are ordered to be in Readineſs to ſail for Holland, to wait the Arrival there of his Majeſty from Hanover.

They write from Lizbon of the 11th Inſt. that an Algerine Man of War of 40 Guns had taken a ſtout Spaniſh Privateer, and ſunk another; and had alſo taken ſeveral Portugueze Ships.

According to Advices from Francfort, 60,000 French Troops are to paſs the Rhine, viz. 20,000 are to croſs over near Huntingben, 20,000 at Strasbourg, and the reſt near Fort Louis.

Auguſt 8. Yeſterday Advice was brought, that on the 15th paſt the firſt Regiments of thoſe Troops began to croſs the Rhine; and 'tis believ'd that by the Beginning of next Month all will be paſſed over.

Four Thouſand Muſquets and a Train of Artillery, conſiſting of thirty large Pieces, have been ſent from Douay to Bologne.

Auguſt 11. Notwithſtanding the eager Solicitations of the Courts of Vienna and Hanover, the Dutch ſtill decline ſending their Complement of Troops to the Succour of the Queen of Hungary, the Preparations of the Court of France having given them great Alarms, and they fearing in Caſe of a general War, to be made the firſt Victims.

Our Advices from North-America make no mention of any new Attempts on the Spaniſh Settlements on the Side of Georgia: Whence it may be conjectured, that the Forces there have turn'd their Swords into Plough-Shares, and their Spears into Pruning-Hooks: And that ſuch Meaſures are taking as will prove that Colony to be worth what has been already beſtowed upon it, by rendering it not only no longer burdenſome, but actually uſeful to its Mother Country.

From Portſmouth they write, that a Spaniſh Privateer, with 73 Men, had the Impudence to anchor at the Back of the Iſle of Wight; but meeting with foul Ground, and the Wind blowing freſh, they were drove on ſhore; and being diſcovered to be Spaniards, the Countrymen came down upon them, ſeiz'd the Ship, and took the Men Priſoners.

Auguſt 13. By Letters, which came with the Holland Mail we have Advice, that the Swedes had actually blocked up Petersburgh by Sea.

It ſeems ſome great Stroke will be given to the Spaniards by Sir John Norris, which will make them weary of the War, or at leaſt demonſtrate their Inability to continue it.

St. James's Houſe is fitting up with all Expedition for the Reception of his Majeſty, who is now expected ſooner than has yet been talked of.

Since the Account of a War being broke out between the Swedes and Ruſſians, the Inſurance of Merchandize from Petersbough to Holland has riſen from 5 l. to upwards of 20 l. per Cent.

LONDON, August 15. The French Ambaſſador at the Hague begins to open his Parrot's Mouth, declaring, That the King of Great-Britain having puſh'd Things to ſuch a Length, the King, his Maſter, no longer able to keep himſelf within the Bounds of Moderation, had therefore found himſelf under an an indiſpenſable Neceſſity of oppoſing the Deſigns of the King of Great-Britain. --- The Hague Letter informs us, That 'tis pretended France deſigns to attack the King of Great-Britain in his German Dominions, in order thereby to occaſion a Diverſion, and oblige his Britannick Majeſty to ſend Engliſh Troops into his Electorate, which, it's ſuppos'd will raiſe Diſcontent in that Nation. --- Are theſe Things ſo?

We hear that three Tenders, having each of them on board a Lieutenant and 40 Men, are order'd out directly, in ſearch of the Privateers which have appeared between Dover, Calais, and Dunkirk.

PHILADELPHIA, September 17.

Extract of a Letter from Jamaica, July 10.
